

SHARP ANNOUNCES REMINDMECARE COLLABORATION TO IMPROVE PERSONALISED CARE FOR ELDERLY

Sharp introduces RemindMecare software to Meet UP Table to help improve person-centred care for the elderly

London, XX September 2019 – Sharp has announced that it is partnering with Health-Connected Ltd (HCL), a leading technology and app development company that creates interactive apps for the elderly and those living with dementia, MCI and learning difficulties, to bring its innovative software to the Sharp Meet UP Interactive Touchscreen Table. The RemindMecare (aka ReMe) software improves interaction between care home residents and care providers, evidences activity provision and helps the delivery of personalised care for the elderly.

Sharp's Meet UP Table will offer ReMe to enable care providers to capture each residents' usage of apps on the Table, their degree of engagement and the outcomes of the activity. The system stores a residents' personal information and creates a detailed and always up to date profile of the person and their Life Story, capturing memories through favourite conversational topics and games, whilst also providing remote family interactivity.

ReMe's ELR (Electronic Life Records) data is used to maintain the resident profiles that can be used to help carers deliver enhanced person-centered care. ReMe also offers its own interactive activities, such as Cognitive Stimulation, music and discovery-based Reminiscence therapy, that can be personalised for each resident based on the interests recorded in the individual's Profile, ensuring a tailored experience for each resident.

Sharp's Meet UP Tables enabled with ReMe, can assist care providers deliver outstanding care and meet the ever-increasing expectations of the Care Quality Commission (CQC) for care facilities to adopt technology to improve person-centred care and evidence activity provision.

Matt Saunders, Product Marketing Manager at Sharp UK, said: "We're very excited by the real benefits that ReMe can bring to the elderly and their care providers. Our Meet UP Interactive Touchscreen Table has already earned enthusiastic reviews from residents and carers for the variety of interactive group activities that it offers. ReMe provide another dimension to the Meet UP Table's capabilities and will make a big difference to elderly care home residents, their families, carers and even to the care home manager."

Simon Hooper, CEO at RemindMecare, said: "We're delighted to be partnering with Sharp to bring ReMe to more care providers, for the MeetUP is the perfect way to engage and evidence the personalised activities that ReMe is all about."
